UNAUTHORISED BUILDING AT QUARRY BAY.

APPEAL TO THE GOVERNOR.

The following letter has been addressed by Mesers Butterfield and Swire to the Governor:--Hongkong, Feb. 8, 1895. Sir,-We beg to bring to the notice of H.E. the Governor the great dissatisfaction we feel with the discretion exercised by the Director of Public Works in administering the powers delegated to him under the Building Ordinance No. 15 of 1889. Under Section 37 of that Ordinance we are permitted to uppeal to the Governor in For many years we have been engaged in . connection with our augar factory at Quarry Recently important additions have been made to the buildings, etc., involving immense detail work, which it has been im-

very extensive building and other works in possible to compass as quickly and consecutively as we could wish. Owing to this strain, though at the onset the Public Works Department were supplied with all the plans required under the Ordinance, we have latterly fallen into arrears, and plans have not been submitted to the Department for work that had to be undertaken at once before the works were commenced. To this extent we are to blame, but it is purely a technical error, an omission that will occur even in the ordinary business of any undertaking of which Ordinance, and the Section, you magnitude. For the omissions mentioned below, for which eventually the Dapartment corved upon us four summonses to appear at the Police Court on the 6th inst., for one only have we received any previous actice from the Works Department.

(a).—This notice, for plans and directing attention to an encroachment. was handed us on the 24th ult. A few minutes afterwards one plan was in the possession of the Department, and in our letter of enclosure we admitted the encroachment and asked that permission might be given therefor. Permission was accorded on the 5th inst., one day prior to the day on which the summons was returnable. Owing to an error on our part we were ander the impression the structure rested upon our and not upon Government ground, hence we were unaware till notified that any encroachment had been made. We were able to send the plan promptly, as we had a single copy in our possession, and have had to ask for its return for further copies to be made for our own use.

(b). - This case of omission was first notified to us by summons on the 4th inst. It is for an encroschment on Crown lands and neglect to send plans of a small pier erected on the foreshore. Similarly to case (a) we were unaware of the encroschment and the plans were overlooked in the press of other work. (c).—Summons in this case was the only notification of our emission to send plane; it is for three items of work. Item 1 was for an addition to-a chimney. The plan for the original E. Mackintosh, Esq.

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor of the 'OHINA MAIL.'

Feb. 0. 1805. Sin, -In common with Colonist in a lettor which appeared in this morning's paper I feel greatly surprised that the Public Press has not taken the slightest notice of the decision of the Police Magistrate in the matter of the charge preferred against one of the leading Firms of this Colony for a technical breach of the Building Ordinance, than which a more rotten, silly and harassing measure was never passed through the Legislative Council.

Such Ordinances as these might be safe enough in the hands of a Municipal body; lute in power to be entrusted to any oneman, with the chance of that man being a fool or a vindictive and revengeful head of erected. his department.

During the absence of Mr Ocoper from the Colony things seemed to work very smoothly, and the community seemed to get on very well with the Public Works not proved a success. Department, but his return seems to have changed everything. Europeans find it difficult to get tath water, while the Chinese are allowed to wasto it by millions of gallons, and the Public Works Department itself has been wasting by its neglect probably more water than any one section of the

It seems singular that Mr Cooper, in endeavouring to oppress such Firms as Messrs Butterfield and Swire, whose contribution to the revenue in one way and another must be very large, does not realize that he is endeavouring to kill the goose daily bread, in common with that of the other officials, is largely dependent upon the continued prosperity of the industries of the Colony which he seems so anxious to worry and harass,-Your obedn. servant. FRAGRANT WATERS' MURMUR That the fall of Wei-hai-wei is the conclusion of another chapter in the China-

Japan War. That after the Japanese have made al their arrangements-and they show an almost painful deliberateness in doing so -the blow comes quickly enough when the time is ripe, and the object of the Japa is invariably gained.

That the chief interest is now centred on look out was kept and at daybreak the the Chinese Peace Envoys and their movements. That it was only another exhibition of the sultation with Colonel Yang and Lee, after hopoless inability to recognise plain facts, shown throughout by the Chinese the alightest appearance of 'bluff' insincerity would for one moment be tolerated by the shrewd Japanese.

That, as the Japs have clearly intimated the operations will not be checked for an instant by any peace negotiations (or Chinese fooling), the shuffle at Hiroshima looks like a diplomatic mistake of the worst kind.

so long succeeded in maintaining as death being instantaneous. Fighting conagainst Foreign Powers.

the under sized Japa will perhaps add a pungency to the instruction which could not otherwise have been secured. That it is difficult to guess whether Japanese loss was, I think, about 650 all China will be stupid enough to give told Japan time to take Shan-hai-kwan (or even Peking) before satisfactory terms of peace are settled. That, as I have stated before, 'face' is of far greater importance to the Chinese official than the lives of his countrymen, and there can be little doult the two Peace Envoys are now cooling their heels in Nagaraki because no one around the Dragon Throne would take the risk of asking for a stroke of the Vermilion Pencil to put the credentials in correct form.

That the fall of Wei-hai-wei must have caused the greatest consternation at Peking, and perhaps some one will yet write a novel with the great Li Hungchang as its hero.

That the loss of the floet to China, and her two naval ports, cannot be estimated in money,

That if China could be wise in time, this sorry business ought to be very near to its end.

That the greatest and noblest characteristic. of the Public Works Department appears to be, to pounce upon residents for their omissions to carry out the many technical absurdities of the complicated building ordinance. That everything, or nearly everything, which Mesers Butterfield and Swite say on this head will be echoed by most sensible residents.

That the mighty engines of the law, when guided by arbitrary and in some cases foolish men, usually work against the spirit of law and order. That I rather incline to blame the P. W.

D. much more than the Magistrate. and therefore I think the references made by Messra B. & S. to the Bench are uncalled for and unwise. That the alternative of fine or imprisonment might occasionally be left to be understood in certain cases, but when given as a formal declaration of the law there is no special reason to impute animus to any Magistrate, for including it in his decision. That Messis Butterfield & Swire should feel indignant over the action of the P.W.D. is not to be wondered at, anarbitrariness and a habit of pouncing upon the unwary are, as I have said, uppleasant characteristics of this Department.

That the Ordinances should be worded so as to check officiousness, but instead each official backs up his brother official, wrong or right, and the Executive Council comes in with its fatherly bless-

That there is very little in the official world to note except that the exodus to England is unusually large. That I would be the last to object to public servents obtaining a holiday, but many these gentry seem to think of themselves first and the public service some time afterwards. That I see Wilson, the emphatic and rather noisy conductor of the Investor's Review, has ran foul of the new Bank of China, Japan, and the Straits. That the National Bank of China also comes in for a smack by the way of no harm. That I don't suppose Mr Wilson can tell Hongkong folks much of these institutions which they do not already know. That Rovinson Cruson seems to go on swingingly, and as an old fogic I hope the children will have a chance of speing it. BROWNIE.
